White, where he was employed until 1832, when he entered the office of Mr. Sheppard, with whom he remained until the death of his employer in 1850. Sheppard, with whom he remarks the death of his employer in 1859.

Mr. Baptist was a member of the old firm of Colin, Baptist & rolan, who did the State printing for a number of years, and during the war was on the Dispatch.

He was a hard-working, upright, good man, who was respected by all who knew from the Third Presbyterian church

MR. BURNETT BADLY HURT.

Mr. Henry C. Burnett, Jr., last night met with a very serious accident, which As the south-bound train that enters Richmond at 7:15 P. M. was passing Elba station Mr. Burnett attempted to jump on the moving cars. In doing so he slipped and fell under the train. The wheels of one of the coaches passed over his left foot and crushed it terribly. The young man was at ones taken in charge by friends and Dr. Winfree was summened. After receiving such medical attention as could then be offered the sufferer was removed to the Retreat for the Stek, and Dr. Brock was also called in. After an examination of the injuries it was found that amputation of the foot above the ankle was necessary, and the operation was successfully performed by Dr. Winfree. The unfortunate young man stood the trying ordeal splendidly, and at a late hour last night was resting quietly. Mr. Burnett is a student at Richmond College, and is a great favorite alike with the professors and the scholars. He is very fond of all athletic sports and an expert foot-ball and base-ball player. He is a zen of Mr. Henry C. Burnett, cashier of the First National Hank.

Some one broke a pane of glass in the front window of the store of Mr. Wellington Brandis Friday night and stole a few things that were exhibited. The thieves were evidently frightened away by some one passing by.

Tramps are said to be very had in Chesterfield on the line of the Richmond and Petersburg railroad, and their depredations are said to nearly equal a band of outlaws. They enter houses and demand food, and several days ago a gang of ten went to the brick-yard of the Farmville and Powhatan Railroad Company, near Chester, and drove the employees away from the fire, and said there would be a death-struggle if the authorities were notified.
